Bowling Green Stands 2nd In Nation

BG Posts Outstanding Decade

Bowling Green State University's football team, during the current decade, has posted a won-lost record that ranks it second among the 113 major college grid teams in the country.

In the past eight years of action, the Falcons have recorded a 59-15-1 mark for an excellent .793 percentage. This leaves Bowling Green behind only Alabama that has come up with a 71-6-3 record during the 1960-67 era.

Bowling Green has run up some outstanding marks during these eight seasons. The 1964 team was 9-1 while the 1960 squad finished at 8-1. The 1967 unit had the decades' poorest record, 6-4.

In the Mid-American Conference, the Falcons haven't exactly been standing still as they have rolled to four league crowns in eight seasons. Bowling Green's 1961, 1962, 1964 and 1965 teams either won or tied for the MAC title.

A look at the other teams in the conference shows Miami ranked in 23rd place with Ohio and Western Michigan ranked 43rd and 54th respectively. Kent State, Toledo and Marshall are now holding down the 87th, 95th, 97th spots.

This decade, the Falcons have compiled the second best record in the nation but Bowling Green's fine record actually stretches through 13 seasons. Bowling Green has now rolled to 13 straight winning years on the gridiron.

During this winning streak, the Falcons have compiled a record of 96-20-5 under coaches Doyt Perry and Bob Gibson. These 13 seasons have helped Bowling Green to an overall record of 233-124-42 in its first 49 years of football action.

New coach Don Nehlen is hoping to continue the winning tradition as the Falcons step into their 50th year of play.

Falcons Try Halting Bobcat Express

QUARTERBACK VERN WIREMAN
Big Day Against Marshall

"Ohio University is a great football team. The Bobcats have the best offensive team that this league has ever seen, period," Bowling Green State University's head football coach Don Nehlen flatly stated before today's game.

Nehlen and his Falcons have the task of halting the Bobcat express today when Ohio University moves into BGSU's Doyt L. Perry Field at 1:30 p.m. in the final Mid-American Conference game of the year for both schools.

For Ohio University the game is important from the undefeated season standpoint. The Bobcats have already clinched at least a share of the MAC title while insuring themselves a trip to the Tangerine Bowl.

The Bobcats claim a 7-0 record for the season and a 5-0 mark in the MAC. Bowling Green is now 5-1-1 for the year and 3-1-1 in the loop. The Falcons have already clinched their 14th straight winning year.

The big question for the Falcons is who will be playing quarterback against the Bobcats? Nehlen promptly answered this when he said, "I was pleased with Vern Wireman's performance last Saturday but he fumbled twice and threw two interceptions and that's not good enough.

"If he is healthy, and had a good week of practice, P. J. Nyitray will be the quarterback but if he doesn't move the team, I know I can go to a guy with experience."

So, Nyitray, who was injured in the Miami game and missed the entire 54-28 romp over Marshall last Saturday, will start and have the chance to add to the already big stack of Bowling Green records he owns.

On the receiving end will be Ed Jones, who became the finest career yardage receiver in the school's history last Saturday as he upped his total to 1,347 yards, and wingback Bob Zimpfer, who had a fine day against Marshall as he caught seven for 101 yards.

Bowling Green's injury list is at a minimum with only montser George Gregory, with a shoulder injury, on the early week doubtful list. If he can't go, Jerry Machovina will move from halfback to monster with Bill Deming taking his place.

Talking more about Ohio University, Nehlen said, "they have great running backs and a great passing quarterback. They can hurt you outside, inside and through the air." These statements must be giving Nehlen a little food for thought when it is considered that Bowling Green's usually fine defensive platoon has yielded 59 points in its last two outings.

Since Ohio University won its first MAC football crown in 1960, either Bowling Green or Ohio has won or shared the crown in seven of the eight years since the Bobcats initial victory.

Nehlen, BGSU's 11th Head Coach

Don Nehlen, Bowling Green State University's defensive coordinator for the past three seasons, was named as Falcons' head football coach, after the 1967 season.

Nehlen, who quarterbacked Bowling Green's Falcons from 1955 through 1957 and landed a second team All Mid-American Conference berth during his senior year, replaces Bob Gibson who marked up a 19-9 record in three seasons at Bowling Green.

In discussing his appointment, Nehlen said, "I am tremendously pleased and honored to be given this opportunity and I hope I can continue the fine football tradition at Bowling Green State University."

During his years as a player at Bowling Green, Nehlen played under Bowling Green's current Athletic Director Doyt L. Perry. Perry said, "Nehlen was a quarterback on my first team at Bowling Green. His enthusiasm, spirit and energy were contagious at that time and they have continued throughout his coaching career. I am confident that Don will make a fine football coach for Bowling Green."

Nehlen is Bowling Green's 11th head football coach in the Falcons' 50-year intercollegiate history. He is only the second, Doyt Perry being the first, Bowling Green player to return to his alma mater as head coach.

As Bowling Green's defensive coach, Nehlen established a fine record. In three seasons, his defensive squads yielded only 361 points in 28 games for an average of slightly under 13 points a game. His teams recorded six shutouts.

In his three seasons as Bowling Green's signal caller, Nehlen took to the air 163 times and completed 80 for 1,173 yards and 11 touchdowns. He also scored six touchdowns for a total of 36 points while rushing 132 times for 271 yards.

During his entire coaching career, Nehlen has had nothing but success. After graduating from Bowling Green in June of 1958, Nehlen became the reserve football coach at Mansfield Senior High School.

From 1959-1962, Nehlen was the head football coach at Canton South High School where his teams recorded a 24-11-2 record. Nehlen won two titles and tied for another in the Stark County Class AA League in four years.

In 1963, Nehlen was at the University of Cincinnati as backfield coach. In 1964, he returned to the high school ranks as the head coach at Canton McKinley High School. That year, his squad compiled a 9-1 record and finished second in the state. His overall high school record was 33-12-2 and his team won 24 of their last 27 games.

Nehlen graduated from Canton Lincoln High School in 1954 where he lettered for two years as a quarterback and landed All-City and All-County honors. He also earned a total of seven letters in basketball and baseball and was voted as the Outstanding Athlete in Lincoln's 1954 graduating class.

Nehlen, age 32, received his Bachelor of Science in Education degree from Bowling Green in 1958 and then earned a Masters Degree at Kent State University in 1965.

He married the former Merry Ann Chopson in 1958 and has two children, Danny and Vicky.

BGSU's Mike Weger, A Detroit Lions' Star

When he was in college, Mike Weger used to sing with a group called the New Society.

Now he's part of one.

Weger, the Detroit Lions' newest find at safetyman, wore medium-length sideburns, a broad smile and ice bags on both legs after the 42-0 rout of the Chicago Bears before 50,688 at Tiger Stadium earlier in the season.

"I'm not hurt," Weger explained, "Just preventive medicine. Don't want anything to go wrong now. Things are just too good to be true."

Weger had intercepted three passes—two off quarterback Jack Concannon and another off quarterback Larry Rakestraw—and the Lions turned two of them into touchdowns. His roommate, Lem Barney, picked off another three (two were turned into scores) to make six of the Lions' eight between them.

You expect Lem Barney to intercept passes. He set a National Football League record of 10 last year as a rookie. But you don't anticipate as much from a guy like Mike Weger.

You don't even expect him to be rooming with Lem Barney.

"It's nothing special," the 22 year-old Weger explained. "A bunch of us got together when we were down in Florida last winter filming the movie, 'Paper Lions.'"

"John Gordy sort of got us thinking about changing our rooming assignments on the road trips this year.

"We knew that some pro football teams had been having racial problems and they've never had any on the Lions. But we thought it might be a good thing if we lived together.

"The fact that Barney and I play the same side of the defensive backfield didn't have anything to do with it. We're friends, that's all. We're both from the south—I was born in Texas—and, well we're sort of homespun."

"Now that we've got Weger," one Lion smiled, "the whole defensive backfield has rhythm."

Son of a Southern Methodist University music professor, Weger played on offense and defense at Bowling Green University, and nights after games he frequently played drums and sang with the New Society at campus dances.

"I can play just about every musical instrument a little bit," Weger explained. "After all, I grew up with a music professor."

A few years back the Lions' defensive unit produced another renowned musical group. Middle line-backer Joe Schmidt, who still sings pretty fair in the shower; safetyman Bruce Maher and cornerback Dick LeBeau once made a record called "Cry Out Freedom."

It got pretty big play on the jukebox at the Lindell AC, but it didn't exactly drive Frank Sinatra and The Supremes out of business elsewhere.

Schmidt is still around, of course, as the Lions' head coach. And LeBeau remains in the Lions' defense. It is significant that the reason the Lions traded Maher to the New York Giants was that Schmidt felt Weger was ready to play regularly in Maher's place.

And he didn't mean on guitar.

"I honestly felt bad when the Lions traded Maher," explained the 6-foot-2 Weger, who frequently joins his wife, Linda, on assignments as a photographers' model. "The Beaver helped me a lot when I was a rookie."

"I was the ninth draft choice two years ago and I signed for nothing. I didn't know where I was for the first half of the season. I don't know why the Lions kept me. I had a bad senior year at Bowling Green."

Actually, Weger is indicative of the Lion's version of the New Society.

In the last two seasons, Head Coach Joe Schmidt and General Manager Russ Thomas have cleaned house pretty thoroughly. There are 25 new faces since 1966.

Detroit's Mike Weger and BGSU's Bob Gibson, Weger's former coach.

How you can "join" America's Olympic Team

You can be there at the Mexico City Olympic Games as a welcome contributor to the Olympic Fund. And be proud of it!

Training, transportation, housing and equipping America's top competitors in the Olympic Games is a major financial task. Because the United States Team is maintained almost entirely by public subscription, without government subsidy of any sort, the interest and support of every American is needed to reach the $3,500,000 goal.

If you haven't already done so, "join" in the Olympic movement now. Fill out the attached coupon, with your check for $5.00 or more and mail — today. In acknowledgment, the United States Olympic Committee will send you the handsome men's tie bar (by Danté) illustrated below. Or, if you prefer, you may select a women's bar pin with safety catch of the same design. For a $10.00 contribution, you will receive two gifts of your choice.

Break your beard in right.

Right now your beard is in the formative stage.

You can shave it with a razor blade like your father does. And each time you do your beard will grow back a little more difficult. Until one day shaving's no longer a chore. It's an agony.

Look no further than your father's face for proof.

But fortunately, you're catching your beard at an early age. You can break it in to be just as shaveable 10 and 20 years from now as it is today.

With a REMINGTON® shaver.

And if you think the kind of shave we're selling won't be close enough for you, you're wrong.

Our new blades are sharper than anything that's been in an electric shaver before. And there's a dial that lets you adjust them for your skin and beard.

What's more, you can dial a REMINGTON electric shaver into a sideburn trimmer.

Admittedly, it costs more to buy our electric shaver than a razor and some blades.

But it's a good investment.

These next few years will determine how you and your beard will get along for the rest of your lives. †SPERRY RAND™

1968 Rule Changes

Believing that the average football fan wants to know more about the rules of the game so he can better understand and appreciate the play, we are listing below the most significant football rule changes for the 1968 season.

1. The time-out period has been reduced from 2 minutes to 1½ minutes.
2. The game clock will be stopped on all first downs and will be started when the play is ready.
3. An offensive interior lineman (tackle to tackle) may not move once he has taken a position with his hand(s) on or near the ground. (Penalty—5 yards)
4. The numbering of the players as required by rule will assist the spectator to easily identify players by position and to assist them in knowing eligible and ineligible pass receivers. The offensive team must have five interior linemen (numbered between 50 and 79) on the line of scrimmage. These numbered players are ineligible to receive a pass regardless of the position they take prior to the snap.
5. Offensive interior linemen on scrimmage kicks (punts) may go down field on the snap of the ball. This year they do not have to wait until the ball is kicked.
6. Once a player gives a fair catch signal and does not touch the ball, he cannot block an opponent. (Penalty—15 yards from the spot of foul, if block occurs in end zone—Safety)
7. One player may confer with the coaching staff on the sideline at the team area during a charged time-out. (last year he could talk to one coach only). Also, after the first player confers and leaves, another player may go to the sidelines to talk with the coaches.

Bowling Green Plays Football For 50 Seasons

By Don Cunningham
Athletic Department Business Manager

It was September, 1919. Young men were returning to the nation's campuses after serving in World War I. Bowling Green Normal was no exception. A year before there had been only six males on campus.

A meeting was called to find out just how much interest there was in having a football team. A turnout of about 20 men sent President Homer B. Williams scurrying for a coach and athletic director Fred G. Beyerman gathering some equipment and looking for opponents.

Bowling Green attorney Raymond Ladd, an all-Ohio standout at Denison, heard about the grid-iron move and offered to coach the group until a fulltime coach was appointed.

About 18 trusty souls showed up for the initial practice on the area now occupied by the new Education Building. Only about four of the candidates had ever played the game in high school.

Scrimmages were out of the question, so one side of the line would practice against the other side, while the backs worked on plays.

A week before the first game John Stitt, a former Western Reserve star, took over as head coach. Mr. Stitt is now retired and lives in Findlay.

The first game was against Toledo. Only the 11 starters played for the Normals and over 200 followers showed up at the field behind the Ridge Street elementary school. Toledo scored in the opening period and won 6-0.

Defiance was the second opponent and took a 12-0 victory over the Normals as Stitt continued to work on the offensive game.

In the final game of the season, Bowling Green entertained Michigan Normal, now Eastern Michigan, and just about came off with a victory. Michigan kicked a field goal in the first period. Bowling Green played them even until the final period when quarterback Dallas March, now a Bowling Green doctor, directed a march to the Michigan five yard line.

The Bowling Green athletic director became over-zealous in his encouragement to the team and was penalized 25 yards for coaching from the sidelines. The chance for Bowling Green's first touchdown died and a Michigan touchdown in the last minute gave the Ypsilanti team a 10-0 victory.

Looking back over Bowling Green's 50 years of football, it probably can be divided into four different eras. After the initial season, the Normals moved into regular play in the Northwestern Ohio Conference with Toledo, Defiance, Findlay and Bluffton.

Only two years after the start Bowling Green won its first conference championship and set all kinds of national records with a 151-0 victory over Findlay.

Coached by Earl Krieger, later a national authority on football rules and officiating, and captained by Franklin (Gus) Skibbie, now Bowling Green mayor, the 1921 team set the tempo which has followed Bowling Green teams through the years with over 40 winning seasons and a 64 per cent winning mark.

After five straight years of having a different coach, Warren E. Steller came to Bowling Green in 1924 and gave the Bowling Green program some stability. Steller directed his teams to three NWO championships, including an 18-game win streak, before the Falcons resigned from the NWO league to enter the Ohio Conference in 1932. The 1928 and 1930 captain Chet Chapman became Bowling Green's first all-Ohio player to give this era one of BG's best.

In the Ohio Conference until 1943, the Falcon football program was turned over to Michigander Harry Ockerman in 1935. The 1939 season was the best with a 6-1-1 record, a 7-6 loss to Capital the only mar on the slate. Tackle Ed Siminski was a standout in this era.

As World War II came on the horizon, Bob* Whittaker, after a most successful career at Sandusky High School, took over at BG in 1941 and the Falcons played as an independent for the next 11 years. Whittaker had a fine 7-1-1 opening year mark but WW II caused most males to leave campus. However, a Navy V-12 program helped BG to keep a football program going with Navy and Marine cadets making up the rosters.

Whittaker had one of Bowling Green's finest teams in 1948, winning eight straight before tying John Carroll, 13-13, in the final game for the Ohio mythical co-championship. Stars of this era were Ed Wellner, Jack Woodland, Bob Schnelker and Fred Durig.

In the spring of 1952, Bowling Green joined the Mid-American Conference which brings us to the present era. With the upgrading of scheduling in the MAC, Doyt Perry moved into the BG picture in 1955 and for 10 years BG enjoyed fabulous success.

The former BG quarterback led his teams to five MAC championships and third place was the lowest standing. His 77-10-5 record was one of the nation's best. Such standouts as Kenny Russell, Bernie Casey, Don Lisbon, Bob Reynolds, Jay Cunningham and Jerry Jones started to carry the BG name into the lineups of NFL and AFL teams.

As Perry turned the reins over to his assistant Bob Gibson, who tied Miami for the 1965 MAC championship, the Bowling Green football facilities moved to the front with the completion of a new 23,272 seat stadium. Doyt L. Perry Field is the best in the MAC and one of the best among the NCAA institutions.

So, with the 1968 season, as Don Nehlen takes over, it might be termed the start of another era in BG football—the second part of Bowling Green's 100 years in football which they can write about in 2019.

TICKETS—The two people largely responsible for Bowling Green's ticket operation, Jan Barney and Margaret Miller, are pictured working in the ticket office that is located on the east side of Doyt L. Perry Field.

Football fans in four states, Ohio, Michigan, Indiana and Pennsylvania, will be able to listen to the 1968 football Falcons.

Paced by WFOB's seven-station network, Bowling Green State University football will be aired by 10 Ohio stations that can be heard throughout a four-state area.

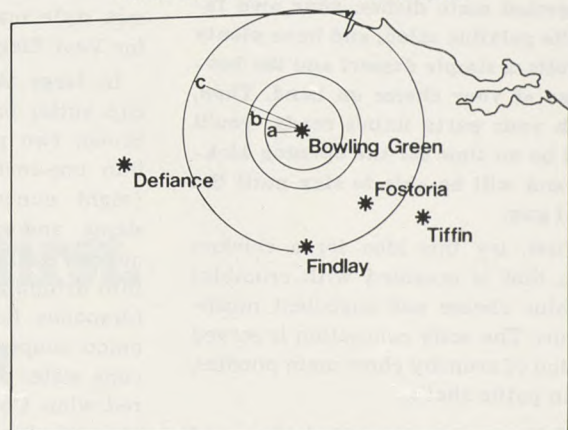

This season, WFOB's network will include WONW, Defiance, WBCO, Bucyrus, WNOB, Newbury, WFRO, Fremont, WTOD, Toledo, and WERT, Van Wert. WTTO, Toledo, WAWR, Bowling Green, and WBGU, the Bowling Green State University station, will also be airing the Falcons' 1968 games.

Veteran broadcaster Dave Carr will be in front of the mike for the WFOB network while Don King will be handling the play-by-play work for WTTO. Jerry McCullen will be the main voice for WAWR while Terry Shaw will be broadcasting for WBGU.

The university's television station will be increasing the Falcons' coverage by taping Saturday's games and then replaying them at 6 p.m. Sunday evening. Tom Willett will be the voice of the Falcons for WBGU-TV.

Post-Game Party Gets Top Rating

by CAROLYN ANDERSEN

WHEN the referee throws both arms high into the air signaling "touchdown" for your favorite collegiate team, he also signals a time for celebration. And what better way to climax a big gridiron victory than by hosting a post-game party?

In order that the hostess may enjoy the excitement of the event to its fullest, the party should be a simple one. Plenty of good food can be prepared ahead of time so that only last minute warm-ups will be necessary when you get back from the stadium.

On game day, prepare one of the suggested main dishes, your own favorite gelatine salad, and have plenty of rolls, a simple dessert and the beverage of your choice on hand. Then, with your party fixin's ready, you'll still be on time for the opening kickoff and will be able to stay until the final gun.

First, try this idea for a chicken dish that is accented with crumbles of blue cheese and succulent mushrooms. The zesty concoction is served on top of crunchy chow mein noodles, or in pattie shells.

Melt one-quarter cup butter and stir in one-quarter cup flour. Gradually add one and three-quarters cups milk and one-half cup chicken broth (canned). Cook over medium heat, stirring constantly, until thickened. Add one-half teaspoon salt, pinch of sugar, one four-ounce can drained mushrooms, dash of monosodium glutamate, pepper, one teaspoon prepared horseradish, one and one-half cups blue cheese and two cups diced, cooked chicken. Cook over low heat, stirring constantly, until just heated through. Turn off heat and cover until time to reheat before serving your guests.

If you prefer a little more gourmet style main dish, try this recipe for Veal Elegante.

In large skillet, melt one-quarter cup butter or margarine and lightly brown two pounds veal cutlets, cut into one-inch pieces. Add one can (eight ounces) drained mushroom stems and pieces, and one clove minced garlic. Remove from skillet. Into drippings in skillet, stir two tablespoons flour, then one envelope onion soup mix; gradually add two cups water and one-quarter cup dry red wine. Cover and simmer 10 minutes, stirring occasionally. Add meat, mushrooms, and two tablespoons chopped parsley and heat through. Turn off heat and leave covered until ready to heat at party time. Serve over noodles. Recipe makes six to eight servings.

Another fun idea is a Knife and Fork sandwich. The convenience of pre-cooked frozen foods keeps you from spending hours in the kitchen when the crowd gathers.

Slice one large loaf unsliced French bread lengthwise and spread bottom half with butter and prepared mustard. Heat in 350-degree oven for 10 or 15 minutes. Heat two packages frozen chili according to package directions. Spoon over buttered bread. Cut three slices processed cheese into several strips and place on top of chili. Top with strips of bacon and fresh onion rings. Cut into six or eight knife and fork sandwiches.

If you would like to plan something clever in the way of decorations for your "pigskin party," why not take a signal from the game ball itself and create a popcorn touchdown centerpiece?

To begin, mold a football out of five quarts popped popcorn and lace it with candy licorice strings. The popcorn can be molded the day before your party. A simple syrup coating can be made by combining two cups sugar, one and one-half cups water, one-half cup light corn syrup and one teaspoon vinegar, then cook to hard ball stage (250 degrees). Add one teaspoon vanilla and pour over popcorn. It will add delicious flavor and will help you shape your oval football.

Once the centerpiece has been molded place the licorice "strings" in lacing fashion and then wrap the popcorn in foil or saran until time to decorate the table. This way, it will keep fresh and crisp for eating.

Come party time, insert chocolate-coated bananas on skewers into the popcorn football. They're a frozen confection that everyone will enjoy. The bananas are cut in half, dipped in one package (six-ounce) melted semi-sweet chocolate chips and one tablespoon vegetable shortening and frozen until serving time. Easy to eat off the skewers, the bananas make an unusual and tasty sweet.

Whether your team scores a victory or not, your party is bound to be a winner.

ALMA MATER

Alma Mater hear us,
As we praise thy name
Make us worthy sons and daughters
Adding to thy fame.

Time will treat you kindly
Years from now you'll be
Ever dearer in our hearts,
Our University.

From your halls of ivy
To the campus scene,
Chimes ring out with gladness
For our dear Bowling Green.

When all is just a mem'ry
Of the by-gone days,
Hear our hymn dear Alma Mater
As thy name we praise.

Ohio's Convocation Arena, One Of The Finest

Nearly every section of the country can talk with pride about its new sports stadium or arena with the professional and college sports boom, and Southeastern Ohio can finally get into the act.

Ohio University will open its new "mini" Astro-dome, a 13,080 seat, completely air conditioned Convocation Arena this winter. The arena, built in a little over two years directly across from eight-year old Grover Center, will be the home court site for Jim Snyder's 20th basketball production.

From the first appearance through a complete look on the inside, the 8.2 million dollar arena exhibits a first class look with the very latest in modern facilities, equipment and comfort. The arena, one of the largest basketball facilities in the Midwest, will seat 15,030 for convocations. The facility is an ideal site for concerts, commencements and many other activities in addition to basketball and wrestling.

The circular building, designed by Brubaker and Brandt Architects of Columbus with the prime contractor the Knowlton Construction Co. of Bellefontaine, will house the entire intercollegiate athletic staff. Another 89 dormitory rooms will house 356 male students on the other side opposite the intercollegiate staff.

The arena is 328 feet in diameter with the top of the dome 134 feet, 10 inches above ground level parking and 123 feet, four inches above playing floor. The roof is aluminum over wood fiber while the main arena floor is composed of a spring supported two layer maple wood system. Carpet is used in the executive lounge area, intercollegiate offices, locker rooms and press rooms.

Seating banks are served by a complete concourse ring inside and out, with 16 portals leading into the seating area feeding up and down into seating sections. People may leave through 56 exit doors out of interior concourse ring into three public lobbies.

The total cost of the arena is $8.2 million with $1 million coming from dormitory funds, $1 million from a private gift and $6.2 million from a bond issue covered by the facilities fee portion of the Student Services Fee. Maintenance on the entire arena will amount to approximately $480,000 yearly.

The new ticket office is located on the lower office level (advance sales) while fans will be able to purchase tickets on the night of a game at three ticket counters, one inside each entrance. Five large concession areas are evenly distributed on the inside concourse ring, each served by a storage room.

The arena, totaling 136,000 square feet, is one of the largest buildings on the campus, if not the largest.

What's so great about ROTC?

Check 'em.

☐ Great opportunity. You earn a commission while you earn your college degree. Graduate—you start at the top. Fulfill your military obligation as an Army officer. With officer's pay. Officer's privileges.

☐ Great advantages. Employers prefer a college graduate with service as an officer. Pay more to get him. Because he's a trained, experienced leader. Can handle heavier responsibilities.

☐ Great success. From the 5% of college men who had ROTC training have come 24% of our state governors, 28% of executives earning $100,000 to $325,000 per year, 10% of Congress, 15% of our ambassadors.

☐ Great guys. ROTC men are campus leaders—in ROTC, athletics, extracurricular activities. And they do better scholastically than non-ROTC students.

☐ Great extras. $50 per month in junior and senior years. Scholarships for outstanding students. Free flight training at over 125 colleges. Extra social activities—military balls, honor societies, bands, rifle teams.

Any way you look at it, there's a lot more going for you when you're in ROTC.

Your future, your decision...

BOWLING GREEN STATE UNIVERSITY'S FALCON CLUB

"Perpetuating Bowling Green Athletic Tradition"

A RECORD OF BALANCED ACHIEVEMENT

The goals of the Bowling Green State University athletic program are competitive excellence, top-notch facilities, and full opportunity for its student-athletes to seek a balanced education. Past records prove that one of the finest athletic staffs in the nation has done a remarkable job of achieving these goals.

The skill and personal integrity of Bowling Green's coaches are well known to both the general public and the coaching profession. Bowling Green's athletic teams compete successfully with the nation's best. It is this type of competition that fosters the self-confidence, poise, determination, and team spirit which are so vital to leadership.

Bowling Green takes great pride in its present athletic program, and continually strives for improvement. We hope you will join with us in our efforts to fulfill these goals.

THE PURPOSE

In athletics, as in everything it undertakes, Bowling Green State University seeks to excel. For nearly 50 years Bowling Green has sponsored a fine intercollegiate athletic program and for the past five years the Falcon Club has made an important contribution to the success of this program. The benefits of the Falcon Club are both short and long range. The immediate benefits are the financial help it provides to young men with athletic talents in their pursuit of an education. The long-range benefits are perhaps less identifiable, but are frequently more valuable. The majority of these student athletes have used their education to make a greater contribution to the progress of our state and nation. This is the type of athlete that the Falcon Club can assist in bringing to our campus.

OBJECTIVES

- ☐ To encourage young men with academic, athletic and leadership abilities to attend the University.
- ☐ To assist in bringing these students to the campus.
- ☐ To contribute to the athletic grant-in-aid program.
- ☐ To promote Bowling Green's athletic teams and athletes whenever and wherever the opportunity arises.

We're proud...

that pHisoHex® has been selected as the antibacterial wash to be used by the U.S. Team for the 1968 Olympic Games!

A winning athlete takes special care of his skin. Above all, he protects it against bacteria that can cause infections and lead to missed practice sessions and games.

If you've ever tried to play with an infected blister on your heel or an abscess on your finger, then you know the role of healthy skin in sports. And that's why pHisoHex is an important part of an athlete's daily health routine.

pHisoHex is America's leading liquid antibacterial skin cleanser in homes and in hospitals. Used regularly in place of soap, pHisoHex produces a superclean skin and builds up an invisible antibacterial film of hexa-chlorophene to protect your skin against germs between washings.

And if you have problem skin, pHisoHex is often valuable. The antibacterial film it leaves on your face will ward off blemish-infecting bacteria. pHisoHex also helps to soften and wash away blackheads.

Use pHisoHex, the skin cleanser of winning athletes.

Made by Winthrop Laboratories, 90 Park Avenue, New York, N.Y. 10016. Available in drugstores in 5 oz. and 16 oz. plastic squeeze bottles.

Conibear Combines Vets, Sophomores & JCs

Bowling Green State University's 1968-69 basketball squad faces a rebuilding season after racing to an 18-7 overall record and the Mid-American Conference championship last year.

However, it still looks like new head coach Bob Conibear has plenty of sophomore, junior college, and veteran talent for the 1968-69 season.

Five of Bowling Green's top six 1967-68 players have graduated leaving captain Dick Rudgers, who started at guard for the Falcons last season and averaged 10.5 points a game, as the only returning starter.

Walt Piatkowski, Bowling Green's leading scorer for the past three years, rebounder Al Dixon, defensive forward Joe Henderson, guard Al Hairston, the Falcons second leading scorer and playmaker, and sixth man Carl Assenheimer, have all seen their final minute of action for Bowling Green.

The loss of these five players leaves coach Conibear with plenty of problems. Conibear, one of Bowling Green's assistant coaches for the past four years, takes over for Bill Fitch, who led the Falcons to the Mid-American Conference title while being named as the Ohio Coach-of-the-Year. After the 1967-68 season, Fitch then accepted the head coaching position at the University of Minnesota.

Conibear has a total of five lettermen, Rudgers, center John Heft, forward Mark Hoffman, guard Sid Rodeheffer, and guard Mark Hennessey, returning from last year's team but these players combined for only 16.0 points a game.

So, Conibear figures to dip heavily into the junior college and Bowling

Green's 1967-68 freshmen ranks to come up with a starting unit that will be built around Rudgers who started all 25 games last year and scored 262 points.

Center Jim Connally, who stands 6-6, guard Rich Walker, 6-3, and forward Bob Hill, 6-4, figure to supply most of the help from the freshman team. Connally averaged 14.3 points a game last year while connecting on .612 of his field goal attempts. He also took off 14.6 rebounds an outing.

Walker had a 13.1 average as Hill came through with an 18.4 mark to lead the freshman team in scoring.

From the junior college ranks, Conibear is expected to have three fine players, Dan McLemore, Jim Penix and Garland Stallworth. Any or all of these three players could well find themselves in BGSU's 1968-69 starting lineup.

McLemore had a fine record at Port Huron Junior College as he made the JC Honorable Mention All-American team for two years as he averaged 19.8 points an outing. Stallworth, the cousin of Kansas All-American Dave Stallworth, comes to Bowling Green from Iola Junior College where he won a host of JC honors and averaged 24.4 over two years.

Penix, from nearby Penta Tech, could be in a class by himself at guard. He led Rossford High School to Ohio's Class A finals then averaged 30.0 points a game as a freshman and 27.0 as a sophomore at Penta Tech.

For Bowling Green in 1968-69, it seems to amount to this, the Falcons will be inexperienced as they go against a difficult schedule that includes Houston, Vanderbilt and Dayton. However, if the junior college transfers and sophomores come through as expected, Bowling Green will still have good height, speed and shooting ability.

We recognize that only through a partnership of private money and public funds can we hope to build the kind of University which our state must have. Through BOWLING GREEN'S MISSION: EXPANDING HORIZONS we have resolved to seek private financial support as a supplement to legislative funds, student fees, and federal grants.

No state can provide fully for the building and maintenance of a truly great university. THE MISSION program is possible at this stage in the development of Bowling Green only because state funds have been sufficient to create the nucleus for a first-rate institution which will indeed serve to attract support from alumni, parents, corporations and foundations.

Your personal participation in this enrichment program will enable Bowling Green State University to achieve eminence as a University of distinction.
